

ARMSTRONG TEASDALE ADDS LAWYERS IN BOSTON, LONDON

Armstrong Teasdale announces the addition of Associate Alyssa H. Ruderman and Solicitor Mairi Lubelska to the firm's Boston and London offices, respectively.

Ruderman is an intellectual property associate skilled in patent law and litigation. She works with clients to license, enforce and expand their patent portfolios, as well as petition for inter partes review. With experience representing clients in negotiations and litigation against major multinational electronics companies, she is skilled in both U.S. and foreign patents and patent applications, as well as drafting, negotiating and enforcing licenses and settlement agreements.

Lubelska is a member the firm's U.K. Immigration team and is skilled at handling a range of immigration and nationality matters for business and individual clients. Her experience spans immigration for corporate and educational organisations; human rights claims; acting for entrepreneurs, investors and other high-net-worth clients; personal immigration; advising EU nationals; and nationality claims.
