

ARMSTRONG TEASDALE NAMED A FIRM TO WATCH FOR INVESTIGATIONS, WHITE- COLLAR WORK

Armstrong Teasdale has been named a Firm to Watch for corporate investigations and white-collar criminal defense by The Legal 500 in the United States. The recognition notes, “the government investigations and white-collar criminal defense practice at Armstrong Teasdale LLP sports a strong roster of individual clients, for whom the firm regularly acts in matters on both state and federal level.”

The firm’s White-Collar Criminal Defense and Government Investigations practice serves businesses in a wide range of industries when they find themselves the target of complex criminal and civil investigations brought by outside agencies or organizations. Our lawyers have broad experience representing clients, including companies and individuals, such as C-suite executives, municipal officials, government contractors, physicians and others, in the investigation and defense of high-profile, often contentious cases at both the state and federal levels.

SERVICES AND INDUSTRIES

White-Collar Criminal Defense and Government Investigations