

ARMSTRONG TEASDALE OFFICE MANAGING ATTORNEYS PUBLISH COMMUNITY LETTERS CELEBRATING FIRM'S 125TH ANNIVERSARY

As part of Armstrong Teasdale's 125th anniversary celebration, the firm's Managing Partner and Office Managing Attorneys contributed a series of letters to business publications in markets across the country. The letters discuss the firm's history, its commitment to the local communities it serves and its continued investment in clients, people, and growth.

Read the full articles below:

- St. Louis / Richard Engel: What over a century of service means for this St. Louis-based law firm (St. Louis Business Journal)
- Kansas City / Tyson Ketchum: Armstrong Teasdale at 125: Built on relationships, proven in the courtroom (Kansas City Business Journal)
- Philadelphia / Michael Witsch: Why a national law firm is doubling down on its Philadelphia presence (Philadelphia Business Journal)
- Miami / Eleanor Barnett: How a Miami law firm maintained its roots after joining a national practice (South Florida Business Journal)
- D.C. / A. Valerie Mirko: Armstrong Teasdale at 125: Why D.C. matters to our firm and our clients (Washington Business Journal)
- Denver / Gregory Ramos: How this Midwestern firm found a home in Colorado, and why it makes perfect sense (Denver Business Journal)
- Chicago / Joshua Liebman: Building on a Chicago legacy after 125 years (Crain's Chicago Business)

PEOPLE

Richard W. Engel, Jr.
Eleanor T. Barnett
Tyson H. Ketchum
Joshua E. Liebman
A. Valerie Mirko
Gregory J. Ramos
Michael C. Witsch