Compiled by Law Bulletin Media, the list is the only peer-recommended resource of distinguished lawyers in Illinois. Leading Lawyers surveys lawyers, asking them which of their peers they would consider top lawyers in a given geographic region or practice area. Based upon survey nominations and approval by Leading Lawyers’ Advisory Board, the top lawyers are nominated and eligible for membership in Leading Lawyers. Less than 5% of all lawyers licensed in Illinois have received the distinction of Leading Lawyer.

Flack, a former judge and an accomplished trial attorney, focuses primarily on catastrophic events litigation, including professional negligence and product liability, class action matters and mass torts. He also litigates business disputes, as well as employment and labor-related matters in Illinois. He has argued appellate matters in state and federal courts across the country and co-authored briefs before the U.S. Supreme Court.

Quinn is a seasoned trial lawyer, focusing his practice on the defense of medical malpractice and other catastrophic loss lawsuits. He has defended multiple complex litigation cases in both state and federal courts involving civil rights, product liability, medical malpractice and wrongful death claims. He leverages his experience as a registered nurse, along with experience in both direct patient care and health care administration, to skillfully counsel his clients through difficult health care-related matters.
