Karrie Clinkinbeard, a partner in Armstrong Teasdale's Kansas City office, has been named among the "50 Kansans You Should Know" by Ingram's magazine. The annual list comprises individuals from a broad spectrum of businesses and institutions across the state, including banking, education, manufacturing, health care and more.

In her profile in the issue, Clinkinbeard highlights the high caliber of legal professionals in the state as well as the firm's success in attracting them, pointing out, "We're seeing a lot of talented individuals attend law school on the coasts but then come home to Kansas City to start their legal careers, which is tremendous for growing the talent pool in KC."

An experienced litigator with substantial trial experience across the Midwest, Clinkinbeard has been consistently recognized by her peers as a Missouri & Kansas Super Lawyer and Rising Star. Her numerous successes include her role as co-lead counsel in a furnace explosion case that generated the largest 2014 defense verdict in Missouri.
