Jeremy Smith is a senior legal analyst in the Litigation practice area. A major portion of Jeremy's time is spent in the day-to-day management of the firm's many toxic tort cases. He assists with all aspects of preparing a case for trial from the initial factual investigation through essential stages of civil litigation. His daily responsibilities entail maintaining a high level of fiduciary duty on behalf of both clients and partners of the firm.

A large portion of Jeremy's time is spent analyzing and researching big data on behalf of Fortune 100 and 500 companies for the purposes of risk management and analysis. He enthusiastically tracks and evaluates multiple areas of risk targeting some of the largest and most reputable companies in America. In addition to his core obligations, Jeremy's responsibilities necessitate researching, synthesizing, codifying, and communicating enormous amounts of actionable data to senior and middle management levels of many Fortune 100 and 500 companies for the purposes of strategic business management.

In addition to his normal duties, Jeremy is also the founder and chief executive officer of his own financial investment firm making Jeremy highly adept at analyzing and reporting data for the purpose of identifying issues, trends, or exceptions to drive improvement of results and find solutions. With academic concentrations in business, law, and finance, Jeremy consistently demonstrates a high level of business acumen while embodying the mission of Armstrong Teasdale.
