Joan Wright is a senior paralegal in the firm's Litigation practice group. With nearly 20 years of experience in the legal industry, Joan has a depth of experience in managing large-scale litigation matters from case inception through trial preparation related to government investigations, white-collar crime and commercial litigation. Joan is skilled at conducting investigatory research, managing complex document procurement, organization, review and production, managing expert witnesses, and preparing and organizing exhibits and demonstratives for trial. Her extensive experience in internal investigations, civil and criminal matters lends to her effectiveness in supporting firm attorneys on a broad range of client matters.

BACKGROUND

Prior to joining the firm, Joan was an executive legal assistant and paralegal at a mid-Atlantic law firm.
