Stewart Mayo is a member of Armstrong Teasdale's Corporate Services practice group. He applies his technology background and student fellowship experience at Washington University's Cordell Institute to provide strategic guidance on data privacy and cybersecurity matters. Stewart also leverages his domestic and international sales and logistics experience in the food and agriculture industries to counsel clients on international trade and associated regulatory matters.

BACKGROUND

Prior to his legal career, Stewart gained substantial experience in the food and agriculture industries, working with exporters, food franchises and agricultural professionals. He served as a summer associate at Armstrong Teasdale before joining the firm full time and completed a judicial internship with the Hon. Abbie Crites-Leoni of the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Missouri.
